

Magdel Shackleton Ph. D

Magdel is well known in South Africa and has appeared on national TV as a scientist turned mystic. She is a nuclear physicist who specialised in medical physics, getting her Doctorate and later becoming Head of Medical Physics for the whole of the Western Cape.

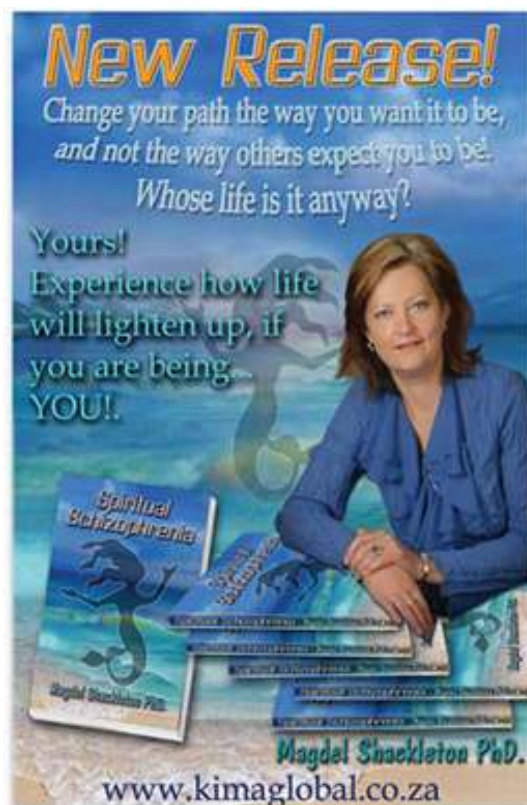

She also happened to be clairvoyant from birth and has focussed her later career on a quest for truth using her bright mind and clear vision. Magdel lives and works in Johannesburg with her son.

She resigned from this position to concentrate on Spiritual Service, offers channelled guidance to those who need it, and lectures widely.

In 2007 she published Spiritual Schizophrenia

Review

I bought Georgina for my grandchild who showed a need for understanding where her fantasy world came from. I could not have purchased a better book. Every Sunday her mother would drop her off and together we would read the experiences of Georgina with her Guardian Angels. Only a book for young people that is well written could enchant my granddaughter, for she is a very bright child who dislikes reading the general fairy tales. It was amazing for me to see how this otherwise aloof child transformed into a chatty and happy young adult through the experiences of Georgina.
